You'll also find a Change Clip Speed option. To do so, just drag and drop a file from your computer onto the Bin pane on the left. Once you confirm the settings, the effect goes into the appropriate Bin for easy access. Each lets you change the intensity and area affected, plus other options where applicable. Give it a try the next time you need to trim some video clips, add effects, or replace audio. If you drag the cursor to any point on the timeline and click the Snapshot button, the app will save an image of the current frame and send it to the Images bin. Getting Started To download, head to the VideoPad homepage. On the big video pane to the right, you'll see a preview of your video on the Sequence Preview tab. Hover over one for a small preview, and use the box in the bottom-right to change the duration. VideoPad also includes stock sound effects; click Add Stock Sound under the Audio tab. From here, it's time to edit your first video. Right-click a clip on the Timeline, and you can choose Reverse Clip for a quick shortcut. At the start of the timeline, you'll also see a handy Fade In button. For general use, we recommend choosing Video File if you'll be saving the video for posterity or uploading to YouTube. Thankfully, the VideoPad editor has plenty. These include reverb, distortion, an equalizer, and more. MP4 is a great file format for general use and compatibility. Adding Effects Unless you're simply trimming and combining clips, you're probably using a video editor to add effects. Tell us down in the comments! We hope you like the items we recommend and discuss! MUO has affiliate and sponsored partnerships, so we receive a share of the revenue from some of your purchases. It offers an easy-to-use interface, has the features you'll need, and includes tons of export options. Hover your cursor at the start or end of a clip, and it will turn into a bracket symbol. Just The Video Tutorials item in the Welcome dialog box, or use the Video Tutorials tab in the preview pane to access it. What Video Will You Create? You will find a variety effects, including: Crop Ä Remove Unwanted Edges Motion Ä Moves the entire Pan & Zoom clip Ä Zoom in on a specific area of the Shake clip Ä This splits a clip into two, allowing them to be moved separately. On the Clip tab of the menu bar, The Add Blank option appears. If you want, VideoPad can automatically upload your video to YouTube or Facebook for you, or cloud storage such as Dropbox and Google Drive. Go to your Images bin and you can drag it to the Timeline to use it. The setup program a one-click process, then the VideoPad editor will come performed in a short time. Green Screen Anyone who has worked with videos knows the handy green screen, which allows you to remove part of a video and overlay another video. Work with clips After splitting a video or importing multiple files, you will find a Transition button in the Timeline between them. Click it to change how the two elements merge. Click anywhere along the timeline at the bottom of the screen to move the red cursor to that point, and then press the Split button. If desired, Ä you can also drag some audio files onto the frame. This way it is possible to drag to change the beginning or end of the clip so that it is easily trimmed.
